BUILDING AN EVIDENCE-BASED DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION STRATEGY

Workforce diversity is an outcome that organizations ought to actively manage. Mercer believes an organization's diversity strategy is more likely to be effective if it is evidence-based. The key is understanding what type of workforce an organization has created, where it's headed, where it wants to go, and focusing on interventions shown to be most effective in building a diverse workforce. Diversity can only be sustained, however, if it is supported by an inclusive culture—as defined by an organization's values, norms, behaviors, leadership, and organizational practices—and works hand in glove with an organization's underlying talent strategy.

MERCER'S APPROACH FOR DEVELOPING AN EVIDENCE-BASED DIVERSITY & INCLUSION STRATEGY

In developing an evidence-based diversity and inclusion strategy, Mercer recommends focusing on four key measures of diversity and inclusion: Representation, Talent Flows, Employee Experience, and Pay Equity.

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO ADVANCE DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION IN YOUR ORGANIZATION

1. Build a business case to understand where diversity and inclusion issues may be impeding achievement of business objectives.
2. Understand the current state of diversity in your organization and where it's headed.
3. Identify the cultural dynamics that pose a risk to your organization's culture of inclusion.
4. Conduct a pay equity assessment and remediate issues identified.
5. Engage senior leaders in the development of data-driven diversity and inclusion strategies that are aligned with business goals.
